BBQG President's Message – November, 2014

We have so much talent in our Quilt Guild! As I sat recently looking at the quilts at our mini quilt show on October 14, I was so impressed. Then when I went to the Brazos Valley Fair to sell tickets for our donation quilt and saw it for the first time, it was "Wow"...very big and colorful. Once again, I was impressed with the quilt itself, the quilting and what our members can do.

And if that was not enough to impress me, I got chills of joy looking at the Grand Prize quilts that were entered in the Brazos Valley Fair because our very own, Lynn McCartney, won two grand prizes with the most exceptional quilts that I have ever seen. As you all know, Lynn McCartney was given an award at our recent meeting by the "Go Texan" committee. Lynn McCartney pieces and does quilting that I call "making friends with the hill."

Personally, I tend to stay in my comfort zone, and I'm pretty sure that most of us do. My favorite poem when I was in school was Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken." Many times we have things come across our path, and it is so much easier to stay on the road we are familiar with or the road everyone else takes. Often times I have to stop and think when I am making a decision as simple as a quilt pattern to pick for my next project; am I going to do what I know or am I going to "make friends with the hill" and attempt that Judy Niemeyer pattern that scares me just looking at it? Am I going to sit at the guild meeting and just be a member because it is safe, or am I going to "make friends with the hill" and raise my hand and "be a President"?

These are just a few examples, but I challenge you to start looking at "making friends with the hill". Let's be clear....it will put you at the edge of your discomfort, and it will be hard...but a good kind of hard. It is the kind of hard that you feel when you dangle your toes over that edge and see a raging river full of rapids and boulders standing between you and your known world and the other side where the things you want reside. It's a good time to get wet. I'm anticipating that you will swim better than you imagined, arrive on the shore ahead of schedule, and be stronger than ever because of the experience. Challenge yourself and get really curious about other options and paths.

Tuesday, December 9, 2014 at the Brazos Center; bring food at 6; dinner around 6:30 PM

Maggie McGuire and Linda Bridges (formerly known as the Kitchen Witches!) will plan the event - We'll need lots of help!!

We think guild members make the most wonderful food, so we want it to be Pot Luck. Totally! Just bring your favorite dish. We'll need casseroles, salads, breads, drinks, and desserts!! Lots of desserts! You don't need to tell us what you are bringing...we like the idea of throwing caution to the wind!!! And we always have plenty, so come even if you can't bring anything!

Also, we would like to continue the gift exchange we have done in the past. For those of you who are new, bring a $20 quilty-related gift (handmade if possible, but not necessary). Many gifts in the past are worth much more than $20, but that's all we want you to "spend"! Be prepared to "steal" a gift or have yours stolen in the fun exchange I've always called the "Chinese gift exchange". (We will only allow two steals so we can get home at a decent hour!) At any rate, it is lots of fun and good cheer!

Quilt Education Thanks

A big thank you to our volunteers who helped make Booneville Days a great success!

Jayne Goetz, Linda Novosad, Maggie McGuire, Sherrill Johnson and Laverne Ondrasek made it easy to have our times covered for the day. A few children did try their hand at stitching, some younger children were happy just to color a pretty quilt design!

I so appreciate all your help; a sincere 'thank you' to each one of you.

Bee News

The Busy Bees have been meeting routinely & have enjoyed taking classes at LSQW for Judy Niemeyer & Sue Daley patterns. We also participated in the Quilt Across Texas Shop Hop & even won some prizes. All the BBs are looking forward to the Quilt Festival in Houston. Our Bee remains closed to new members due to lack of working space.

Quilt 'n Peace took our usual 5th Tuesday shopping trip to the Austin area the last of September. Members visited three shops and came back with fabric and new ideas for quilts. Because there are 26 people enrolled now, we have divided into 3 groups to work on care quilts. There was a new member last Tuesday and we are still open if you would like to join our "fantastic" group. We plan to do an individual project in November instead of the care quilts. Rowena will lead is in constructing a sweat-shirt jacket. Some members work and can only participate during the summer or holidays, so for now, there is room for more.

Kathy Ashley, Bee Keeper

The Brazos Valley Go-Texan Committee visited our October mini quilt show/dinner and presented both BBQG and artist/quilter Lynn McCartney with plaques of appreciation for "dedication and support".

Eighteenth Annual BBQG Winter Retreat

Fall is in the air and it's time to start thinking about winter retreat! The 18th Annual BBQG Winter Retreat will be held February 5-9, 2015 at Camp Lone Star in La Grange.

If you would like to attend (and did not pre-register last spring), you may sign up for the winter retreat beginning at 6:30 p.m. November 11 at the Brazos Center.

Because of space limitations, the retreat is open to BBQG members only (persons who have been paid-up members since January 2014). Registrants have the option of signing up for either 3 nights (Thursday, Friday & Saturday) or 4 nights (Thursday, Friday, Saturday & Sunday). The cost of the retreat is the same as last year: $230 for 3 nights or $280 for 4 nights. These costs include meals and lodging. Twelve spaces are left and once the retreat is full, a waiting list will be started to fill vacancies as they occur.

A $50 deposit must be given in person to Jeanne Joham at the time of sign-up to confirm your reservation. If you are unable to register in person November 11, you may have someone who is not going to retreat complete the process for you.

If more than one person from your group cannot register in person, each of them has to send a different person not going to retreat to register on their behalf. We will not accept more than one registration per person.

The balance will be due by the January BBQG meeting. You may also pay for the retreat in installments, but the final payment is due January 13, 2015 -- no exceptions!!

Also, please remember that all participants must pay their 2015 BBQG annual dues before making final payment for the 2015 winter retreat. All monies collected are deposited when received. Refunds will be given for emergencies per BBQG by-laws.

For more information, please contact Jeanne Joham at 589-2191.
